Pacific Coast Archaeological Society Quarterly

The Pacific Coast Archaeological Society Quarterly is a publication of the Pacific Coast Archaeological Society (PCAS), which was organized in 1961. PCAS is an avocational group originally founded to study and to preserve the anthropological and archaeological history of the original inhabitants of Orange County, California, and adjacent areas. The Publications Committee invites the submittal of original contributions dealing with regional history and prehistory. Although PCAS is especially interested in reports which shed further light on the early inhabitants of coastal southern California, it is always interested in reports on the wider Pacific Coast region.

Information about subscriptions to the Pacific Coast Archaeological Society Quarterly and the PCAS Newsletter is available online at www.pcas.org. Back issues of the Pacific Coast Archaeological Society Quarterly are available. An index to Volumes 1 through 40 is available as Volume 40, Numbers 3 & 4. This searchable index is online at www.pcas.org. Three Occasional Papers, on Catalina Island, Mexican Majolica, and the Peralta Adobe, have also been published by PCAS. ## About the Authors

Gary S. Breschini, Ph.D., RPA, and Trudy Haversat, MA, RPA, are professional archaeologists who work in Central California. Their specialty is the archaeology and prehistory of the greater Monterey Bay area, and together they have more than 60 years of field and research experience. They run their own consulting firm, Archaeological Consulting, and find time to run Coyote Press on the side. They may be reached through their website at www.coyotepress.com.

Joe Cramer, MA and MFA., received his formal education in art at California State University, Fullerton, with a concentrated area of study in ceramic sculpture. He currently teaches ceramic art classes at Menifee Valley College and Rio Hondo College. Since 1982, he has enjoyed working in his spare time as an illustrator of academic articles, books, and associated materials for southern California archaeologists and institutions.

Henry Koerper, Ph.D., received a BA (1965) and an MA (1968) from UC Davis, and he earned a Ph.D. in anthropology at UC Riverside in 1981. His varied employments have included: CDF firefighter; USFS fire suppression field and laboratory researcher; California Army National Guard explosives technician; archaeological field excavator (e.g., Old Sacramento Project, Prescott College Black Mesa Project); Peace Corps teacher and athletic coach (Voi Harambee High School, Kenya); college anthropology professor (Chapman College [5 years] and Cypress Community College [30 years]); and archaeological consultant to several southern California CRM firms. Semi-retirement allows Dr. Koerper time to help produce the PCAS Quarterly.

Bobby McDearmon is a resident of Westminster. An Orange County native and graduate of Capistrano Valley High School, Mr. McDearmon is engaged in the antiques business in the city of Orange. He is owner of the S. C. Evans papers which he salvaged, collected, and preserved for many years.
